To Whom It May Concern:

This letter is being written in reference for Brett Meyer. I have known Brett for many years in the high school and then college settings. In the high school setting I observed Brett to be the first in his Art and Design program to have his art work published in a children's book. There I saw first-hand Brett's hard work and his ability to multitask. At the college level I witnessed Brett working a part-time job while maintaining a full time academic schedule.

I feel very strongly about Brett's excellent skills and over all work ethic. There was no task too menial or too great for him to do. He took all that he was asked to do, and completed everything with professionalism and thoroughness. Throughout our time, I observed Brett to have a number of wonderful attributes that make him a good worker and coworker. I have always know Brett to be upbeat and positive whenever I have seen him. I believe that his general interest in getting the job done well sets him apart from his peers.

I respect Brett for who he is, his work ethic and his kind disposition. I am proud to recommend Brett to any employer and I feel that he would be a great asset to any company that is fortunate enough to hire Brett.

Sincerely,
